
Expedite insurance licensing and renewals

Remembering to renew your producer's licenses may not be first thing on your mind. Answering client questions, getting rate quotes, submitting applications, and handling premium payments keep you from making sure your producers are fully authorized to sell. Wouldn't it make more sense for your agency to spend more time selling, and less time managing licenses?

License applications and renewals made easy

Sircon for Agencies is an online service that provides a single-source platform where you can quickly perform licensing transactions in any jurisdiction, and easily ensure that your producers are authorized to sell.

While you complete our interview-style questionnaire, your producers' applications are seamlessly completed behind the scenes.

Without these proper credentials, your agency risks expired licenses, delays in policy issuance, and withheld commission payments.

The support you need, when you need it

You can rely on knowledgeable customer service representatives to assist you with transactions, provide you with informed answers to your questions, and update you when regulatory requirements change.

Get anytime, anywhere access

Sircon delivers faster compliance processing without an expensive software investment. It combines access to PDB data with electronic regulatory processes in a single integrated service, including:

- 24/7 online access
- No implementation costs or requirements
- Electronic license application, renewal, and CE tracking

Streamlined payment processing allows you to pay all state fees on one convenient monthly statement, rather than issuing 50 different payments.

Get started today

Getting started is easy. In less than two minutes, you can subscribe to the service, validate licenses, and ensure authorization to sell. If you're ready to get started with Sircon, Vertafore can help you get up and running quickly and smoothly.

Proactive license management

Upgrade your subscription for a proactive look at your agency and producer license information, helping you ensure that you are always authorized to sell.

Agency license tracking

Ensure that all of your agency licenses are up-to-date with automatic license tracking that keeps your information in sync with the National Producer Database (PDB).

- View your agency licenses as they appear to the states
- Hide licenses you don't want to track
- Quickly identify all renewable licenses
- Configure and receive renewal reminders

Connected producer licensing

If keeping up with your agency licensing is tough, staying on top of your producers' licensing is even tougher. Connect with your producers and you will both get access to their up-to-date licensing information.

- Receive producer license updates automatically
- Receive timely reminders of upcoming renewals
- View continuing education information in 23 states

Regulatory QuickGuides

These regulatory reference guides provide easy access to the licensing, appointing, education, and other requirements in every state, so you always know what credentials you need to keep selling.
